Ten May Have Died in Borger, Texas Blast

BORGER, Tex. (AP)—A shattering explosion ripped through a gas line leading to the huge refinery of Phillips Petroleum Co. today, and police said unconfirmed reports indicated 10 men died.

Unknown numbers of injured were taken to hospitals.

Most, if not all, the victims were believed employees of Boman-Chase Construction Co. of Borger which had only recently installed the pipeline.

The men were in the area to clean up the construction site.

The company sealed off the area. Construction company executives refused to release any information immediately.

Head of Class, Fine Student, Kills Parents

WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Daryl Moss, 15, president of the sophomore class at Weaverville High School, killed his parents early today.

Sheriff Harold Wilson said the crewcut, bespectacled Daryl also shot at a young woman who lived with his family. He missed, but then hit her over her head with a rifle, injuring her seriously.

Wilson said the boy took $24 belonging to his Boy Scout troop and more than $400 of church funds his father had been entrusted with and drove away in the family car.

Police captured Daryl near Redding less than an hour later, and said he admitted the killings. In the car was a rifle he had used and cartridges.

He surrendered quietly and was questioned at the Redding police station, about 45 miles east of this Northern California town.

"I hated my father," Daryl told Wilson. "We just couldn't get along. I wanted to leave home. He didn't want me to."

Dead at their Lewiston cottage were Veril F. Moss, 45, a program engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation, and his wife, Lois Elizabeth Moss, 44.

Jean Ann Taylor, 20, of Orem, Utah, was in serious condition at Weaverville Hospital.

Undersheriff Leonard Adams said "We can't understand it. The father was an elder in the Mormon Church. Daryl is the secretary of his troop and an Explorer Scout. They were decent people."

Wilson said Daryl told this story:

"He said he had been planning to kill his father for a week or so and finally decided Saturday to do it."

"He went into his parents' bedroom shortly after midnight and put the rifle next to his father's head and shot him."

"The mother woke up screaming. The boy slammed his mother with the gun, then shot her."

"By this time, the girl, Miss Taylor, was screaming. Daryl shot at her, missed, then clobbered her over the head with the gun stock."

Daryl was asked why he killed his mother.

"I didn't like her much either," the boy replied.

33c Pound Cotton Support Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced Tuesday night grower prices for this year's cotton will be supported at a base rate of 33.04 cents a pound—up .02 cents from last year.

He accompanied the announcement with a guess that the rate—about $3 a bale more than last year—would make neither many growers nor textile mill users of cotton very happy.

There had been pressure from growers and some cotton state congressmen for a larger increase.

UN, Katanga Agree to Try to Ease Tension

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United Nations and Katanga have agreed to halt all troop movements likely to lead to friction, Katanga's President Moise Tshombe announced today.

A conference in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist Congo province, took some of the heat from a situation which prompted Tshombe earlier to order a general mobilization.

Tshombe objects to U.N. Security Council action which empowered the U.N. Congo command to use force if necessary to prevent civil war. The council also called for withdrawal of foreign officials such as the Belgians who are key men in Tshombe's army and government.

The decision to freeze troop movements was reached at a meeting of the U.N. representative Jan Berendsen of New Zealand and Col. Anders Kjellgren, Swedish commander of 2,000 U.N. troops garrisoned in Katanga.

It could end a Katangan offensive against Baluba rebels in the north of the province, where U.N. troops have been little more than observers.

In New York, the United States was reported urging Belgium to pressure Tshombe into swinging his mineral-rich land into a federation of Congo states. Informed sources said the United States also is pressing Belgium to keep her nationals from going to Katanga as mercenary soldiers.

Diplomatic sources in Leopoldville, the Congo's capital, said they believed the Security Council's proposals may be acceptable to President Joseph Kasavubu's government. These informants said it depends on the interpretation.

A proposal for reorganization of Congolese military forces was viewed as meaning some form of cooperation between U.N. and Congolese troops.

There is an example of such cooperation now in Leopoldville. Nigerian and Congolese police share traffic duties and operate joint patrols.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told the U.S. Senate that a U.N. force of up to 60,000 men is needed in the Congo. The force now totals between 15,000 and 20,000.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced today that his government and the United Nations have agreed to freeze all troop movements.

In a communique Tshombe said "at a meeting this morning between the representative of the United Nations and cabinet ministers."

Asks PSC to Lower Pay TV Risk

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Tuesday asked the state Public Service Commission to reduce the risk of investment in pay television lines at Little Rock on an experimental basis.

The PSC has been asked by Midwest Video Corp. of Little Rock to require Southwestern Bell to provide lines for pay TV in Little Rock.

Southwestern Bell asked the PSC first to determine whether pay TV was in the public interest. If it is, then PSC will have to set charges and rates applicable to the Southwestern Bell system in Arkansas and not just at Little Rock, the company said.

Kiwanians Set Minstrel March 23-24

Plans for the publication of a souvenir program in connection with the 18th annual Hope Kiwanis Minstrel scheduled for March 23 and 24 were outlined to the club yesterday at its luncheon meeting at Hotel Barlow.

Leonard Ellis, public relations chairman, remained the group that this was the biggest money-raising project of the year for the club and that more than $10,000 had been expected by the club in the past 13 years for youth service and youth activities in Hope.

Approximately $1500 is raised each year through production of the show and revenue from the souvenir program, the great bulk of which goes for promotion of youth activities.

The show is written and directed by a special committee of Kiwanians and through the years has drawn near capacity crowds at the high school auditorium. The club is fortunate this year in having a group of veteran entertainers and the show promises to be one of its best.

Special guests of the club were 30 members of the Golden Age Club, a senior citizens group that is sponsored by the club.

There will be a pecan production meeting at City Hall Thursday, Feb. 23 at 1:30 p.m.

$1 Billion for Jobless First on List

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A billion-dollar program of emergency help for the long-time unemployed, President Kennedy's No. 1 legislative project, apparently was set today for prompt approval by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Democratic leaders were hoping to bring it to a vote early next week and make it the first of the new administration's 16 priority measures to win House approval.

Other items on this priority list, announced by the White House Tuesday, also moved up a notch or two:

A companion bill, for benefits to children of the unemployed, was being put into shape for Ways and Means approval with or just after the unemployment payment extension.

The House Banking Committee set hearings Friday on a multi-million-dollar program of loans and grants to help pull chronically depressed areas out of their slumps. Senate hearings on a similar measure are almost finished.

The Senate Labor subcommittee announced hearings on the administration bill to increase the minimum wage by stages to $1.25 an hour. These will begin Tuesday and are expected to be held to four days.

A corresponding House subcommittee ended hearings Tuesday and set a target of March 2 to complete work on a bill.

A concession by administration forces on the unemployment insurance extension bill smoothed the way for Ways and Means approval and, sponsors said, assured prompt House passage.

The estimated $990 million required to extend payments up to 13 weeks maximum would be repaid by a temporary, two-year increase in the unemployment insurance tax, rather than by a permanent extension in the wage base of the tax, as Kennedy proposed.

The tax, now paid by employers at the rate of 3.1 per cent on a $3,000 wage base, would go up to as much as 3.5 per cent—but for two years only—under the plan tentatively agreed to by the Ways and Means Committee.

Unemployed who exhausted their basic benefits after June 30, 1960, would receive the extra payments.

Faubus Wants Bond Issue in $76 Million Program for Construction in Schools

City Official Up for Embezzlement

By LEON HATCH

PARKIN, Ark. (AP) — H. I. Thompson, Parkin City Clerk, who also was manager of the water and sewer systems and street commission, Tuesday was bound over to the grand jury on two charges of embezzling city funds.

Thompson was charged in Municipal Court at Wynne. He was freed on $10,000 bail, $5,000 for each charge of alleged diversion of privilege license payment.

County Prosecutor DeLoas McKnight said he would ask Circuit Judge H. G. Partlow of Blytheville to call a special session of the grand jury in about 30 days in connection with the case.

But he said it might not be possible to have it submitted and adopted at the current legislative session and in this case there might be a special session.

Any alternate plan to salvage part of the program which might be introduced at this session would be contingent on failure of the bond issue which apparently could not be put to popular vote at a special election until after the General Assembly adjourns on March 9.

Faubus said that if the bond issue should fail, many items listed in his program which he presented Tuesday to the legislature would be "out the window."

As examples, he mentioned a Library Commission building and appropriation for improvement of the state's park system.

He said under any alternate plan which he sponsored first priority would be given to the needs of the State Hospital and possibly of the Children's Colony.

He also noted that he had made other commitments which would be covered by the overall program if it is adopted, including more money for cities and towns. If the program is not adopted these commitments will have to be handled separately, Faubus said.

Final decisions on the bond issue phase will have to be made by popular vote.

If it is considered highly unlikely that the legislature will refuse to refer the matter to a special election.

Faubus said that if the legislature approves there would be no undue delay by him in calling the election.

Faubus said that in dividing the proposed bond issue he had accepted the amounts outlined by presidents of the University of Arkansas and state supported colleges as their needs under a plan for a $52 million issue which was introduced earlier in the session but abandoned for lack of support.

However, because the amount of the proposed issue was raised and some other agencies taken in, the percentage amounts in a bill introduced Tuesday to effect the Faubus program are not the same as those in the earlier bill, the governor said.

Also introduced Tuesday in both legislative branches was a measure to retire principal and interest of the initial $20 million of bonds by additional horse race track and use tax revenue.

Faubus said his fiscal experts estimated that these sources would yield a total of $1,400,000 a year—$400,000 from revenue from an added 12 days of racing at Hot Springs and the rest from the use tax — which he said would be sufficient to amortize the proposed first issue over a 20 year period.

He said that unless Arkansas should be confronted by a depression or a major recession he saw no reason why normally increasing revenues would not care of the additional without handicapping and other means that might be needed.

House Refuses to Act Quickly on Bond Bill

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House refused today to suspend its rules and act on a bill to authorize a $60 million construction bond issue.

The bill, which would effect part of a program proposed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus Tuesday, was called up by its sponsor, Columbia County Rep. Harry B. Colay.

Since the bill was introduced late Tuesday, it had not been printed and placed on House members' desks for 24 hours as required by the rules. Colay said that everyone understood the bill from the governor's explanation and that hasty passage was needed as the legislative session is nearing its end.

Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Field objected to the rules suspension. "I'm for the bill but I think that in a proposal of such breadth, we should at least have an opportunity to read the bill before we vote on it," Field said.

Colay's motion to suspend the rules was defeated on a voice vote. Colay said he had also intended to call up a bill which would divert increases in race track and use taxes for bond purposes.

The bills now should come up Thursday.

Park Timber Sales Net $924,414

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A total of $924,414 was collected by 25 Arkansas counties last year from sale of timber and other products from the state's two national forests.

This is the sum paid the counties by the government in lieu of taxes. It represents 25 per cent of the income from the Ouachita and Ozark national forests.

The Ouachita forest covers parts of 12 Arkansas counties, the Ozark forest parts of 15 counties. Yell and Logan counties are in both forests.

The largest sum paid any one county was $166,820 to Scott County. Montgomery County collected $140,451. Both are in the Ouachita forest area.

Federal reports list payments to the Arkansas counties as follows for the year which ended June 30:

Ouachita forest — Garland $49,562; Hot Spring $169; Howard $85; Logan $8,755; Montgomery $140,451; Perry $45,148; Pike $1,087; Polk $9,448; Saline $24,571; Scott $166,820; Sebastian $5,340; Yell $7,862. Total $20,802.

Ozark Forest — Baxter $6,723; Conway $1,981; Crawford $22,784; Franklin $28,725; Johnson $49,061; Logan $20,643; Madison $11,725; Marion $464; Newton $53,646; Pope $52,644; Searcy $8,336; Stone $16,736; Van Buren $8,881; Washington $4,247; Yell $7,010. Total $303,612.

Yell received a total of $4,872 and Logan $29,399.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright mentioned these payments in a recent Senate talk as an example of the importance of forests to the country's economy. The total income from forests, he said, was 148 million.

Fulbright spoke in support of larger appropriations for forest research facilities and programs. He seeks, among other things, to increase timber production in the Ozark mountain area where vast areas have been taken over by unproductive brush but which, he said, could be converted into timber lands after research into proper procedures to be followed.

A private survey shows that Arkansas communities plan to spend 1,224,400 on airport improvement projects over the next four years but that they are about half a million dollars short of the necessary funds.

FIRST MISSILE CAR—Workmen put finishing touches on the first railroad car to be designed and built as a roving carrier and launching platform for a missile. The missile is the Minuteman, a 50-foot, solid-fueled ICBM that can be stored longer and fired more quickly than liquid-fueled types. The U.S. plans to put about 150 of them on the rails by 1963, plans hundreds of others in fixed, underground sites. The car, built at American Car and Foundry's Berwick, Pa., plant, is 88 feet long and features special "three-way-stretch" cushioning to shockproof the missile. Sketches show how the mobile missile system will work. • Wheels are locked in place and jacks lower to raise the car slightly to a stable firing position; a steel flame deflector lowers over the rails to protect them from the blast. • Clamshell doors, covering most of the car's length, open. • The missile is elevated in its protecting sheath. • Finally, Minuteman is exposed and ready to fire at a preselected target halfway around the world.

U. S. to Let Aid to Laos Be Screened

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is ready to submit all future aid to the royal Lao government to the screening of a neutral nations' watchdog commission.

This evidence of full U. S. support for a genuinely neutral Laos was made known today by authoritative government sources. They said the offer had been transmitted to King Savang Vatthana of Laos, the Soviet Union and neutral nations in Southeast Asia. The king has called for the neutrality of Laos.

The U. S. action was discussed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a 30-minute meeting Monday night with Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

Rusk gave Menshikov a translation of King Savang's message, proclaiming that Laos will not join in any military alliance and will not have on its territory either foreign forces or military bases.

U. S. officials said the United States is ready to submit all future aid to the royal Lao government to the screening of a neutral nations' watchdog commission.

Findings are to be presented to the Administration and the Congress together with a request for additional federal funds to aid airport construction and improvement.

The study shows that 10 of Arkansas' 55 publicly owned airports are planning construction or improvement projects. The cost of these projects is 1,224,400, the survey shows, while funds now available and anticipated from local and state sources total 723,200, leaving 501,200 required to carry out the planned work.

Washington's Birthdays Not Always Fun

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (AP)—George Washington seldom had a happy birthday.

When the anniversary rolled around he was more often than not plagued by sickness, lack of cash, crop failures, spiteful tongues, sunshine patriots and politicians handy with the harpoon.

Posterity seems bent on making up, in its own fashion, for what the father of his country missed. With parties, parades and shopping sprees as diversified highlights, the Feb. 22 anniversary seems headed for eventual status as a full national holiday.

But it was certainly not like a holiday, or even a decent birthday, for Washington 200 years ago today. He was 29, then, living at Mount Vernon, deep in problems.

Research at this center of Washington lore on the Delaware River shows Washington at that time was suffering from fevers and in severe pain from something resembling an acute attack of flu. His tobacco crop was poor. His plantation was running down generally, largely because he had been away from home so much.

It was also a time of political crisis for Washington. He was running for re-election to the Virginia House of Burgesses from Frederick County. His opponent was an old comrade-in-arms, Adam Stephens, from the French and Indian war.

Stephen conducted a whooping, whirlwind campaign. Hampered by illness, Washington was like a guttering candle competing with a fireworks display. Washington won the election, but seemed in no mood to celebrate.

Down through the years, Washington wrote often of money worries; of going into debt and of being unable to collect money due him; of selling land and goods at losses; of having to turn down friends' appeals for loans.

As early as 1782—he died in 1799 at the age of 67—he said "I pant for retirement" so that he might end his days in quiet. Before that came to pass, however, he was called upon to serve eight driving years as president.

Sheridan Against Faubus' Plan

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP)—Grant County school teachers wrote Gov. Orval E. Faubus today that his proposal to revise the state's Teacher Retirement System would weaken the program.

The letter, sent to Faubus by Supt. A. R. McKenzie of Sheridan schools, said all Grant County teachers had approved the state plan in meetings today.

"We are grateful for your past support of the schools," the letter said. "We feel that you are wrong on your retirement program . . . it will weaken the security of the retirement program."

Faubus favors limiting state contribution to the program to 5 per cent of teachers' salaries. The Grant County teachers said they favor an alternate plan, supported by the Arkansas Education Association, which would put the state's share at 9.72 per cent.

No Egg Prices for Second Day

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock egg market quoted no prices for the second straight day today after a "demoralized" market Monday.

George Riley of Searcy, president of the Arkansas Egg Council, said that if quotations were suspended for too long a period the market would be "in chaos."

Spokesman for the egg market said that outside competition was responsible for the "demoralized" market.

Some Little Rock handlers said an Arkansas producer outside of Little Rock intended to offer eggs to retailers at the current Little Rock quoted price plus four cents. For this, he would deliver the eggs already graded, processed, packaged and ready for the retailer to sell.

The Little Rock market quotation is the price paid to the producer. The Little Rock handlers then do the packaging, grading, processing and delivering.

Kosaka said it would be up to the Red Cross and Peiping to decide when and how much Japanese food would be sent if the offer is accepted. Unofficial sources said around 100,000 tons of rice might be made available.

Head of Bankrupt Firm Indicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A federal grand jury Monday indicted Alan C. Springer, former president of the bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp., on 15 counts of alleged fraud in the sale of ABDC securities.

Springer earlier was indicted by a federal grand jury at Fargo, N.D., for alleged mail fraud and conspiracy in connection with an ABDC subsidiary, Lenders Service Co., Inc.

The indictment returned by the Little Rock panel alleged Springer caused salesman of ABDC and another subsidiary, the Financial Security Corp., to make "false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises" to investors.

Union Farm Labor Means More Cost

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Unionization of agricultural labor would increase the cost of living, R. Samuel Dillon Jr., a past president of the National Peach Council, charged today.

Dillon, of Hancock, Md., told a council meeting here that if attempts to organize farm workers in California and other states succeed, the attempt will spread throughout the country. He said this would cause prices of agricultural products to go up, resulting in an increase in the cost of living.

Attempted union organization of California farm workers has sparked a bitter battle between agricultural employers and union leaders.

Dillon called for better organization by national agricultural associations, such as the Peach Council, to meet labor, wage, financial and promotion problems.

Bentonville Man Killed in Crash

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Bentonville man was killed early today when his light plane crashed near here.

The wreckage was found at Elmdale Lake, just north of here, about seven hours after the man was last heard from. The Federal Aviation Authority said flying conditions were bad in the area at the time.

The man gave his name to the Fayetteville airport as Farrington and said he was from Bentonville. He radioed the field to file an instrument flight plan to Dallas. At his last contact, at 1:17 a.m., he reported he was a mile northwest of Fayetteville.

Report of Supply Ship Is Untrue

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. Navy spokesman today said a report in a British newspaper that the sailing of the Polaris submarine supply ship Proteus has been postponed or canceled "are absolutely without foundation."

The spokesman said, however, that the date of the vessel's sailing from New London, Conn., is still unknown here.

The Daily Mail said today the United States is reconsidering its decision to base the Proteus in Scotland's Holy Loch as a missile sub tender.

Plans to establish the Holy Loch base have led to protests in England and Scotland.

Jet-Aided Youth Doing Just Fine

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Eleven-year-old Stephen Morrill, whose appendicitis operation needed help from a Navy jet plane, now is "just fine, riding around in a wheelchair."

Stephen, son of Col. and Mrs. Harry Morrill of Little Rock Air Force Base, is a hemophiliac. That means his blood does not clot properly.

After his operation Saturday, a supply of special blood-clotting plasma had to be secured from New Orleans. A Navy jet flew it to Memphis and it came on to Little Rock by commercial airliner. The supply was ordered after the hospital's stock here ran low.

A blunt instrument was used to inflict the head injuries suffered by Buford I. Loyd, Sebastian County Coroner B. G. Hendrix said.

Police said Loyd had been missing from his home since Friday night. They were unable to establish a motive for the slaying.

have to be met.
In this connection Faubus said he planned to sign a bill which has passed both Houses to remove use tax exemptions on certain equipment and merchandise going outside the state unless the material could not be bought in Arkansas where it would be subject to the sales tax.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus presented a capital expenditure program to a joint legislative session Tuesday and duplicate bills implementing it were introduced in the House and Senate later in the day.

Faubus urged a four-year $76.145-million program, mainly for construction, and asked for an immediate $20 million bond issue. He said the funds would provide for facilities at state-supported colleges, the Children's Colony, the State Hospital, McRae Tuberculosis Sanatorium for Negroes and the Schools for the Blind and Deaf.

The twin bills would authorize a special bond election and divert increased Hot Springs horse racing revenues for bond purposes.

The thorny teacher retirement issue was put off by the House again at least until next Tuesday. Despite opposition from AEA backers, the House agreed by a vote of 53-40 to delay action on the retirement plan. Proponents of the Arkansas Education Association-backed plan, which calls for the state to contribute 9.72 percent of teachers salary toward retirement, charged the delay would kill their bill.

The AEA proponents say the postponement would give Faubus, who has proposed limiting state participation at 5 percent, a chance to veto the measure without enough time remaining for them to override the veto.

The governor has five days in which to act on a bill once it reaches him. If it is received Tuesday and held five days, the House would have only three days to act before adjournment.

A bill designed to void recent state Supreme Court rulings on workmen's compensation by Sen. Ellis Fagan of Little Rock was passed 26-4 by the Senate.

The measure specifies that heart attacks and strokes wouldn't be covered by the workmen's compensation unless they were caused by unusual activity in the course of an employee's work.

Fagan contended that the court had rules such compensation cov-

George Washington Loved Animals Too

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Few American schools know George Washington's love for animals. All through his diaries, affection and concern for his hounds and horses runs like a golden thread.

He would have understood and sympathized with the little girl whose letter I am using on this, his birthday.

"I have loved animals since I was three years old," she writes. "I had a dog named Butchie and I loved him just as much as I loved people. My mother got rid of him because he was sickly. It broke my heart. I got over it in a couple of weeks but still cried when I was alone."

"My mother and father never got along, so they got a separation. Since they did my mother erage included illnesses and deaths which weren't intended by the ones who drew up the law.

Bills passed by the Senate Tuesday included:

One to allot an additional $350,000 yearly to counties from the general fund (turnback).

A Game and Fish Commission request for more than $3 million annually.

The Senate defeated a bill that would allow the Claims Commission to re-open 30-year-old claims of $44,836 by C.S. Constant. The vote was 16-14. The money was for principle and interest for highway work between Hot Springs and Arkadelphia.

Meanwhile the House passed several Senate bills effecting the governor's highway fund compromise.

One would guarantee to cities an additional $750,000 annually for streets. The second would have the Highway Department allocate yearly $100,000 to each county for secondary roads.

The only opposition to each measure came from Woodruff County Rep. Jack Oakes who said that the county bill would leave the Highway Department no discretion in construction of secondary roads.

Other bills passing the House would:

Increase the legal markup on wine from 13 to 20 percent.

Set up a Mississippi River Parkway Commission. One member from each of the 10 counties included would be represented.

Increase from 7 to 11 the membership on the state Plant Board. The additional members would represent feed and oil meals, the Arkansas Pest Control Association, and the Arkansas Feed Manufacturers Association and the Arkansas Seed Dealers Association.

The House also received a measure from representatives of Stone, Baxter, Marion and Izard Counties seeking to make it illegal to remove gravel from trout beds in the White River in north Arkansas.

Rep. Doris McCastlain of Monroe County proposed another state park. Her measure would establish a park where Monroe, Lee and Phillips Counties join at the point of the original survey for the Louisiana Purchase.

The Faubus construction financing program is a replacement for a similar $52 million bond proposal advanced by presidents of the state colleges and university.

The original plan, although not so all-embracing as the one suggested by the governor, would have been financed by a tax on soft drink.

After much wrangling the plan was withdrawn by its sponsors when it became evident it would not pass.

The Faubus plan, in addition to the first $20 million bond issue, seeks other issues totaling $10 million if the revenues would support it.

But any such bond proposal would have to be approved by a popular vote.

goes out dancing Thursday and Saturday nights. I got lonely staying home all by myself so I asked my mother if I could have a cat. She said yes.

"I bought a cat at the pet shop. It was the most beautiful cat in the world. In the long months I had him I became attached to him very much. I even made up words of love for him. I named him Cookie. He was sweet and kind to me. I taught him to roll over."

"He was beautifully marked like a leopard, black dots over the light gray. My mother liked him too. He was friendly to everybody. I have to leave him from eight in the morning till two o'clock in the afternoon while I go to school. When I came home today, I called him. He didn't come. When I went looking for him I saw a cat in the road. It was Cookie in the street, dead. I started screaming. I was hysterical. I asked a woman if she had a bag."

"I brought Cookie home and left him in the yard and went and told my mother. I was so full of tears. My mother felt bad. She told me to bring Cookie to the dumps because the ground was too hard to dig a hole for his grave."

"So I took him to the dump and said a prayer over him. Something inside me reminded me of how I used to play with him, how he came up to me when he was hurt and when he was hungry. Tell me, should I get another cat? What kind of person am I to love animals this way?—C. M. Dear C.M.: You are a normal little girl who lavishes love on animals because you are lonely and because, as you have discovered, animals repay your love, as did Cookie, in trust, devotion and affection."

By all means buy another pet. Your love for it will be just as strong though different from that which you gave Cookie. This time, instead of a dog or cat, I suggest some pet which can be left alone when you are at school, such as a canary or parakeet.

I faced much the same problem when I was a little girl. A friend solved it by giving me a canary. I named him Jimmie and taught him to whistle "Yankee Doodle Dandy." He would perch on my shoulder, fly about the room and eat hemp seed out of my hand.

When he died at the incredible age of 18, I shipped him to Marjell Dye, a girl friend of mine who lived in Caldwell, Ohio because I feared the cats of New York City would dig him up. Marjell buried him under an apple tree in her backyard.

This letter came too late to answer before St. Valentine's Day but since the question asked is one put to me at all seasons by thousands of other girls, I shall print letter and reply:

Dear Helen:

Is it proper for a young lady to send a Valentine to a young man? The boy I have in mind has taken me to a semi-formal dance and asked me out since. I can't tell whether or not he really likes me. I like him and would like to send him a friendly Valentine. Would you? —B. B. II.

Dear B. B. II.: No. If you want him, preserve the myth that man is the pursuer and woman the pursued. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my letter. "The Way to a Boy's Heart."

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper.

ters of Katanga an agreement was reached whereby all movements of troops likely to lead to friction would be stopped.

It was an abrupt shift for Tshombe, who calls this mineral-rich province independent. Only Tuesday he had ordered a mobilization of all black and white Katangans to prevent any attempt by the U.N. to neutralize his armed forces, as called for in a Security Council resolution.

Earlier today Katanga authorities staged a show of force at Elisabethville Airport, fearing U.N. guards there intended to prevent the movement of Katanga planes.

Trucksloads of troops and police rushed to the airport. U.N. guards were immediately reinforced and there were no incidents.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

The United States is reported urging Belgium to pressure President Moise Tshombe to bring Katanga Province into a federation of Congo states that would cooperate with the U.N. Congo force.

Informed sources said the United States also is pressing Belgium to keep her nationals from going to Katanga as mercenaries for the army in Katanga Province, which Tshombe proclaimed an independent state last summer soon after the Congo won independence.

Tshombe Tuesday ordered all able-bodied persons in Katanga mobilized to oppose any effort to put into effect in his province the new Security Council resolution authorizing the United Nations to use force if necessary to prevent civil war. Tshombe's Belgian-officered army continued an offensive against rebel Baluba tribesmen in north Katanga.

Tshombe also rejected the Se-sas State Teachers College. Other colleges already have the power of eminent domain, which allows them to condemn land.

The House also passed a bill to permit 15 per cent of the voters in Crittenden County to call a special election on whether the dog racing track at West Memphis shall be permitted to continue in operation.

By a 66-9 vote the House approved a bill to require the State Security Council's demand that Belgian military and political advisors quit the Congo. Such an exodus would strip his administration and army of key men.

Tshombe said the Belgians would stay even if the Brussels government ordered them home.

However, in Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, many Belgians indicated they would listen to orders from Brussels.

Informants said Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld told his advisory committee on the Congo that he would ask Belgium to get Belgian military and political advisors out of the Congo in accordance with the resolution.

In Brussels Tuesday a spokesman for the Belgian Foreign Ministry said the Congolese authorities—not Belgium—had called in the Belgian military and political advisers and the Brussels government could not intervene. The spokesman said it was up to the Congolese authorities, including Tshombe, to order the Belgians to leave.

Authoritative sources said the United States also had offered helicopters to the Sudan to detect trucks that might try to smuggle arms through Sudanese territory to the pro-Communist rebel regime of Antoine Gizenga in the northeastern Congo. The Sudanese reportedly replied they did not need the helicopters.

Reactions Vary

House. He said he was leaving that up to Harper, who would have to find a House sponsor for it.

Harper said he had not lined up a House sponsor yet, but he added, "There are plenty of people over there who're willing to bring it up."

Harper said passage of the bill would make consumer credit easier and stimulate business for auto dealers and sellers of other forms of personal property. Harper refused to elaborate on provisions of the bill.

Rep. Milton Willis of Crawford County said the House still appears unwilling to pass the bill, although some representatives have been swayed by its proponents. The Associated Press polled about 20 legislators last week and found only one who said he would vote for the bill. This week, opponents still were in a majority, but many who were flatly against it before say now they want to hear the bill explained.

Sebastian County Rep. Mrs. Bernice Kizer was one who said she had changed over to favor the bill.

The Milum bill is not clear as to who would benefit from the cash price-credit price differential. Milum seemed to believe the entire amount would go to the lender as an additional loan charge.

This view prompted Pulaski County Rep. Gayle Windsor to predict the bill would never stand up in court. "That's usury," he said. "I don't see how the courts could let such an arrangement stand."

Today's money market recognizes almost as many forms of installment credit as there are kinds of businesses. Some firms carry their own notes. Most sell the note to a lending agency, such as a bank or discount company.

The effective interest rate varies from 5 per cent on so-called secured notes to the maximum 10 per cent. Secured notes are those which have life insurance policies, bonds or other readily negotiable instrument as collateral.

Some firms simply add the interest charge to the original purchase price and divide the total by the number of payments to arrive at the monthly note. However, a system of adding a fixed percentage charge each month to the unpaid balance has come into wide use in recent years.

A major department store, for example, charges 8-10 1/2 per cent of the unpaid balance each month. This is an effective interest rate of 9.6 per cent.

On new car loans, one Arkansas bank charges $4 per $100 borrowed per year. This is not, however, 4 per cent interest, since the charge is collected in advance on all money borrowed. The lender repays in installments and he does not have use of all the money for the entire period, so the effective interest rate is between 7 and 8 per cent.

The bank's interest charge on used cars and personal loans is $5 per hundred, an effective rate of 8 to 9 per cent.

Lending agencies declined to say what effect passage of the Milum bill would have in the cost of installment credit. They pointed out that the legal interest ceiling would remain at 10 per cent, as far as they were concerned, and it would be up to merchants to arrange any increased cost.

Merchants who were contacted said they would withhold comment until the Legislature acts on the bill.

Windsor said, "Our Arkansas Supreme Court has taken a very strict view toward any price differential which is a subterfuge or camouflage for usury. The court looks through the form and into the substance of a transaction to determine if it is cloak for usury."

"I think the merchants have some merit to their position," Windsor continued, "but I think they should propose a constitutional amendment to raise the interest ceiling rather than try to get us to pass legislation that the Supreme Court will tear down."

CIVIL WAR ALBUM

When Confederate States Chose Leader

Jefferson Davis, who was brought up in Mississippi, was primarily a military man.

A West Point graduate, Davis initially served in the Army for seven years until a nervous condition forced his retirement in 1831. He later returned to military service and became somewhat of a national hero when his First Mississippi Infantry saved the day at Buena Vista in the Mexican War in 1847. As a statesman, Davis first represented Mississippi as a congressman in 1845, then as a senator in 1847, and later became secretary of war under Franklin Pierce. He re-entered the Senate in 1857 where he stayed until Jan. 21, 1861, when he resigned to take a role in the Confederate States of America. Hoping for a military career in case of war, Davis, to his surprise and regret, was unanimously chosen provisional president of the Confederate States on Feb. 9, 1861.

Bobcats Take Two Games From Crossett

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope took two games from Crossett last night as the Bobcats won their conference game 64-46 and the "B" team edged by with a 29-26 victory, their 7th straight.

The Bobcats jumped to a big 19-8 first quarter lead and then had to fight to hold it until the half. Hope was outscored 11-4 in the second period but led 23-19 at the half. It was pretty close in the first part of the second too, until the Cats' full court press paid off and helped them steal the ball, they led 45-35 going into the final period, in which they outscored Crossett 19-13.

Churchwell with 17 and Robinson with 18 were the leading Bobcat scorers. Calhoun and Fry had 10 each. Arnett had 3 and Murphy Powell and Hooten had 2 each. Scott was high for the Eagles with 9 points.

The low-scoring B game was fairly close too, but Hope led 8-3, 13-12, 21-17, 29-26 at the quarters. Powell was high for Hope with 11. Porterfield took 5, Purdie and Hooten 3 each, Walker, Hatfield and Roberts 2 each and Greene 1.

The Bobcats and B boys travel to Fairview Friday for an important conference bout, and then play host to Crossett in their last home game this season Saturday.

The Bobkittens have gone to Jonesboro for the state tournament.

Four Teams in NBA Playoff Are Settled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four of the National Basketball Association's six playoff teams already have been determined and the big question for the waning weeks of the season seems to be who'll get the last two spots in the Western Division.

The Syracuse Nationals and Philadelphia Warriors, still struggling over second place in the East, did a double job of eliminating the hapless New York Knicks-erobrokers from contention Tuesday night. The Nats clinched the third and last playoff spot by conquering the Detroit Pistons 123-118 in the opener of a New York doubleheader. Then the Warriors added "positively" by downing the Knicks 114-112 in the second game.

The St. Louis Hawks, who backed into the Western title Monday when Los Angeles lost to Syracuse, celebrated Tuesday night with their 26th victory in 30 home games — a 126-114 decision over the Cincinnati Royals.

As a result, Detroit still trails Los Angeles by a game and a half with Cincinnati another game back. The Lakers return home tonight to play the Boston Celtics while a Detroit doubleheader sends Philadelphia against Cincinnati and New York against

Tech Extends Lead, Hogs Play TCU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas Tech rode its dazzling duo of big John Hudgens and tiny Del Ray Mounts to a blistering 93-81 triumph over Baylor and used an assist from Southern Methodist to all but wrap up the Southwest Conference basketball championship Tuesday night.

The Red Raiders, after their first title in over four years of trying, took a two game lead with three games to go as Southern Methodist whipped bitter rival Texas A & M 65-61 to knock the Aggies into a second place tie with Texas.

Everyone considers Tech "in" with the title although the Raiders still must play enough foes — Texas Christian and Texas at home and Rice on the road — to lose it. But TCU and Rice are in the second division and only Texas appears capable of giving the Raiders trouble.

Texas clung to a chance at the title by edging Rice 91-70. It put the Longhorns into a second place tie with Texas A&M. These two games battle at College Station Saturday night.

Arkansas can make it a three-way tie for second if it beats Texas Christian at Fort Worth tonight. Tech is 9-2, Texas A & M and Texas 7-4 and Arkansas 6-4 in conference play.

Hudgens came in to spark Tech to a 41-38 halftime lead and led a second half charge that saw Tech shoot at a 67.9 clip from the field and score 57 points.

The 6-9 center wound up with 24 points for the night, with Mounts pitching in 22.

Texas came from behind with 1:25 left to go to nip Rice as Jack Dugan got a three-pointer. He sank a layup and then shot a free throw on a Rice foul.

Some brilliant outside shooting in the final half brought Southern Methodist its victory over Texas A & M. The Mustangs took the lead to stay with 2:33 left when Jim Hammond hit a jump from the side.

Texas Tech plays Texas Christian at Lubbock Saturday and a Tech victory would clinch at least a tie for the championship.

Just a Little Beef

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — After a hard weekend of beefing about it, hundreds of thousands of government workers meekly started out Monday on the full seven-hour-a-day work schedule decreed by new President Janio Quadros.

Most have been working five or six hours a day and orders to spend from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the job, with 2 1/2 hours out for lunch, stirred up much protest but no action.

RUGGED SPORT—This carpet for golfers has varying pile, thickness and colors to simulate fairways, rough, greens, and traps. Removable soft rubber cups serve as holes. It gives the busy executive an excuse to putter around the office, to the obvious disapproval of his secretary.

CANADIAN CAPER—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada poses with a 140-pound marlin he landed off Port Antonio, Jamaica, on a trip in the Caribbean area.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast"—but drugs work better. The modern technique of taming ferocious animals, including lions, is to shoot them with darts loaded with a tranquilizer. Latest victim is the Australian wild buffalo. Hunters sell them in the Far East as beasts of burden.

Attendance Up in S. W. Conference

DALLAS (AP)—The Southwest Conference will go over the 400,000 mark and set an all-time basketball attendance record.

A survey shows that 72 home games this season have drawn 347,350, an average of 4,824 per game. There are 16 games to go and if the average is maintained the final total will be approximately 424,000.

Last year the record of 374,522 was set for 87 games. The game average was 4,305.

Leading the attendance parade is Texas Tech, the team that also leads the championship race. Texas Tech has drawn 82,950 for 12 games and averaged 9,110 for 3 conference games. Tech, with two games to go already has beaten its record of 82,496 set for 11 games in 1958.

Arkansas has drawn 30,700 for eight games.

Jonesboro School Reaches Goal

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Jonesboro school drive reached its goal of $38,000 today and Vance Scurlock, president of the school board, announced that the present school term would be completed as planned.

A 25-man study committee had been set-up to explore means of raising funds to finance the Jonesboro schools through the present school term. School officials had announced that Jonesboro did not have enough money to complete the term. Defeat of a 15-mill tax increase was blamed for the financial difficulty.

Minor M. Markle, chairman of the study committee, said a door-to-door canvass, started two weeks ago, had provided the rest of the needed money.

Rice Acreage Increase Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals calling for an immediate increase in rice acreage of not less than 10 percent, price supports at 80 cent parity and increased rice usage in the Food for Peace program were presented Tuesday to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The proposals were submitted by representatives of the rice industry from five states, including Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and California.

Arkansas was represented by L.C. Carter of Stuttgart, R. H. Smith of Walnut Ridge and Howard Alderson of Stuttgart.

26 points, nipped Tennessee 60-59 in another SEC game.

Big Harold Hudgens scored 24 points and little Del Ray Mounts 22 for Texas Tech, now 9-2 and sailing smoothly in the SWC after Southern Methodist's 65-61 victory over runner-up Texas A&M (7-4). Defending champion Texas matched the Aggies at 7-4 by overhauling Rice 81-79 on a three-point after the loss of the two great All-Americans as well as their coaches.

What Cincinnati, without Big O and with new coach Ed Jucker, has done is a well told story. Now the Mountaineers, without West Virginia's Mountaineers are doing without Jerry West.

Elsewhere: Norm Halberstadt hit a school record 41 points in VMI's 78-75 victory over Richmond, and Bobby Ayersman hit 26 points, Buckey Keller 23 and Chris Smith 19 as Virginia Tech, runnerup to West Virginia in the Southern Conference, nailed George Washington 98-92 on the eve of its namesake's birthday.

A pair of 6-7 buddies, Earle Roy 38-81, and Morehead (Ky.) climbed into a tie with idle Eastern Kentucky for the Ohio Valley Conference lead, downing Western Kentucky 100-94, in other featured games.

Kentucky lost a tidy lead to Vanderbilt's 12-point burst in the last 4 minutes, then pulled out its sixth straight victory and a 7-4 SEC record on Ned Jennings' basket with 26 seconds showing. Of the SEC teams which are permitted to play in the NCAA tournament by state or school policy, Kentucky trails only one—Florida which has an 8-3 record. Georgia defeated Idaho 77-63, and West Tech, with Roger Kaiser scoring 31, surprised Pitt, 85-68.

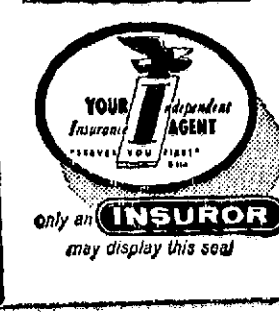

Temple (17-5) fattened its record, beating Manhattan 69-59 as Bruce Drysdale scored 21, but Chicago Loyola's hopes grew dim in a 107-99 loss to Western Michigan. Drake (17-6) toyed with Omaha 110-49, Washington State which has an 8-3 record. Georgia defeated Idaho 77-63, and West Tech, with Roger Kaiser scoring 31, surprised Pitt, 85-68.
